CHINESE MINISTER BACK.

HE COMES BACK TO AMERICAN IN IM-PROVED HEALTH.

He Says That He Found No Place Abroad That is Preferable to Washington. Rudeness of the People When Mrs. Cleveland is to Be Seen in Public.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—The Chinese minister is back from his European trip, much improved in health and more than ever delighted with Washington. He says he did not find anything while abroad which he thought preferable to Washington, and he comes back well contented with his prospects for a three years' stay here. He may also have to go briefly to Peru, to which he is also the accredited minister, but that will not be before next year. He is more attached to Washington than before, and would probably prefer it to anything except his own native land. They all look forward with pleasure to their return home.

this length of time. Mr. Tain, who acconipanied the minister to Spain, had been in Cuba as representative of his government for eight years. He was permitted to re-turn home when he had finished his tour of Europe with the minister. Some of the people who are now with the legation have been away from home and their families about the same time. Most of them are family men, and if you ask some fellow who is prancing about with the ladies in society, about his own family relatious at home, he will probably tell you that he has a wife and a dozen children. Asked wby they don't bring their families with them, they usually make some indifferent answer, saying that their ladies are very timid, and would not like so long an ocean voyage.

The minister comes back much improved. He is as brown as a native American, just from the seaside, and has added several pounds to his avoirdupois since he left. Not that be needed them particularly, for he was a well developed man, weighing probably 175 pounds, but his cheeks are fuller, and he has more the appearance of perfect health than when he went away. He brings with him some fine gens captured during his visit to Paris, for he is immensely wealthy and can gratify his taste in that direction with the greatest ease. One of these is a fine emernld which decorated the crown of Napoleon. it is large and of a deep color, and is surrounded with a double row of line diamonds, whose clear brilliancy set off the central gem to perfection. There are between forty and fifty of these diamonds.

In addition to these, each of the heavy gold arms or clasps which hold the immense emerald in place, is surmounted at its point with a tiny diamond, making a unique and valuable ornament. And how do you suppose he wears this peculiar shaped and costly decorationi Why upon his oap. He wears on all occasions a black skull cap, sur-mounted with a red hutton, an insignia of rank. On the front of the cap he wears this costly and historical ornament. He takes a good deal of pleasure in showing it to his friends, and explaining its history, for it is of course a most rare and valuable asticle, and it is admired by all who have seen it. I remonstrated with him for wearing so rare and valuable a gein, in a way that would tion of the course of Tuttle and Fairchild, make it so easy for him to be robbed of it. and amount, if adopted, virturally to an ex-"It would be so easy for some one to sllp up behind you," I said, "and snatch the cap from your head and get away with it." He looked worried at this, and asked if I large number of Democrats of the east will Chief Cotorow Declares That He Will Not thought there would be any danger in his wearing the ornament to the theater. He remarked that he had been pretty careful about it while he was traveling abroad, but he thought the people of this country were too honest to do anything like that,

It was very painful to undeceive him, but it seemed obsolutely necessary to explain to him that there were a few people even in this fine country who might be guilty under pressing circumstances of snatching a man's cap from his head from behind and running away with it, or even of cracking him over the head to get it, where the temptation was so great as in this case. Another curious and valuable ornament which the minister wears is a huge thumb ring, set with large emerald, and having a row of diamouds running around the entire circumference of the ring. The material of which the ring is made is some fragment of wood from his own country, very choice and costly, as much above sandal wood as sandall wood is beyond pine. It is cut out in the form of a ring about one inch in width, and just long enough to fit on his long, tapering thumb. A row of very brilliant diamonds extends around this, running along the center of the ring and clear around the thumh, which It incases. Then at the top is a large emerald, not so large as that upon his cap, but a very large one, surrounded with a line of smaller diamonds.

Anxiety to See Mrs. Cleveland.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—There seems to be a general anxlety on the part of the public to see Mrs. Cleveland. People who saw her during the return trip from New England say the crowding and anxiety to gaze upon her was simply disgraceful. On the boat the people stumbled over each other and orowded upon her as though she were some inmate of the menagerie. Women even went so far as to go and open the door of her stateroom and look in, and then apologize for their rudeness by telling a lie and saying they thought it was somebody else's When she went to dinner on the boat there was such a rush for the table that it was necessary to put guards at the door to keep back the crowd.

Even here where she has now lived for more than a year, she is the center of observation when she goes out shopping or for other purposes. She is quite fond of shopping and is a great favorite with the local dealers, and she always buys the best line of goods without paying fancy prices. She is pretty well known at all the leading huslness houses on F street and Pennsylvania avenue, and there is always a lively competition among the clerks for the privilege of waiting upon her. Sometimes she enters a store where the crowd is unusually large, but she invariably waits her turn and makes no effort to take precedence over the other and taken to Troy, O.

Irish Commissioner Appointed. Washington, Aug. 31.—The precident to-day appointed Professor G. Brown

Goode, assistant secretary of the Smithsonian institution, to be United States fish commissioner, Solioitor McCue having declined to accept the position.

Professor Goode now holds exactly the same place in the Smitheonian which Professor Baird held when he was appointed fish commissioner, His qualifications for the office are undoubted and he will no doubt accept the position, ile has been associated with the fish commission from its very inception, and has performed valuable services in connection with it. His experience goes hack to 1871. In 1875 he was employed in connection with the govern-ment fishery board for the centennial exhibition in 1877 as statistical expert in behalf of the state department at lialifax, and in 1878 in behalf of the National museum at Gloucester. He was one of the party at the coast stations taking part in the marine explorations. He represented the United States at the fishery exhibitions at Berlin and London in 1880 and 1883.

Solicitor McCue, when asked to-day why he declined to accept the position, modestly His stay here will be about five years, declined answering the question, but it is that of many of the attaches is greater than understood that his declination is due to a ichthyslogical attainment and inability to fulfil the requirements of the law, which limits the appointment to "a civil officer of the government of proved scientific and practical acquaintance with the fishes of the coast,"

A New Republic. CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 31.—Mr. William Spreckle, of San Francisco, a nephew of Claus Spreckles, the 'sugar king' of the Sandwich Islands, is in the city. He was for eight years attached to the royal household of the Hawaiian king. Said he to-day: "I think the Hawaiian king will be deposed inside of a year, and a republic set up in the islands. Kalakaua's pretty court is modeled after that of the British queen, and the people are tired of paying for this mimic royalty, which costs quite as much as the genuine article. The king himself is popular for his hale-fellow-well-met style, and that is all that keeps him on his throne. His majesty can be seen in front of the bar of the principal Houolulu saloon sipping a cocktail with any one of his subjects who will pay for lt. The new ministry just formed in the islands is the first step toward the formation of the republic,"

OLD WORLD CABLE NEWS.

RUSSIA ATTRACTING THE ATTEN-TION OF ALL THE OTHER POWERS.

the Tone of the French Press Toward the Czar's Government Likely to Take a Sudden and Sweeping Change-Ferdinaud Selects a Prime Minister-Notes. LONDON, Aug. 31. - The tone of the French press toward Russia is quite likely to take a speedy and sweeping change, for their presant temper is not at all judicative of the real sentiment entertained by the politicians, statesmen and journalists of the republic in regard to the northern power. The caressing and deprecatory language common to the Parisian press from the Debats to the Soir hut thinly veils the anxiety felt as to the future course of the czar's empire and the real sentiment of his advisers.

The fear and indignation with which they observe Russia coquetting with Germany now and then give place to hope and gratu-lation, when such incident as a German baiting in Russia seems to strain beyond endurance the relations between the two empires, but conviction is gradually possessing the French miud that Gormany can outbid France in the rivalry for Russian alliance, and that the czar's government would not hesitate long were the Musoovite power compelled to chose between the two na-

There is without doubt an intense dislike of German emigrante felt by the lower and middle class of Russians, who cannot compete with the Germans either as skilled laborers or as traders, but the German element can be quietly boycotted in Russia without giving the victims any opportunity for serious complaint, since it is not probable that any further manifestations of Russian hatred for German competition involving force or violent expulsion will be permitted by the authorities.

It is quite ohvious that the French newspapers are eagerly awaiting a possible difference between Germany and Russia over the Bulgarian question, but it is not likely that they will have an opportunity to display their talent for fine writing upon the subject. Russia seems to be abundantly able to shape the policy of the nations around her by simply keeping quiet and awaiting the gravation of events. She can at any time place herself in a position to rely implicitly upon the friendship of Germany by giving that untion a guarantee of Russian neutrality in case of war between Germany and France, and if Ferdinand does not speedily display a proper amount of subserviency the porte, at the instance of the czar, can make it extremely uncomfortable for the Bulgarian adventurer without fear that Germany will interfere in his behalf. If Russia can be assured of the neutrality of Germany in Bulgaria, and it is thus seen that she can, she has no vital need of an alliance with Franca.

The Czar III.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 31.-The czar contracted a cold on his journey between Cronstadt and Copenhagen, and has since suffered from an acute attack of rheumatism in his left shoulder. THE INDIAN WAR.

Return to the Reservation.

DENVER, Col., Aug. 31.—There has been no renewal of homilities, but the Indians are angry over the death of a number of their men. The situation at Rangely is considered oritical, and the force there has been largely increased. In the face of the arrival of the state troops a number of volunteers whe are not under restraint have returned to Meeker. Four companies of colored troops from Fort Duchesse are hunting Indians, but Colorow has declared he will not go on the reservation. The Utes have added large accessions to their numbers, and those in front assert that fully six hundred of them are out. John McAndrews, the government herder, thinks this number is overrated, but it is known that seventy-three Southern Utes have gone north on a hunting pretext.

They have been very curious lately, and anxious to learn of the situation north, and should they join the others and become inflated with the war spirit they will materially strengthen the hostiles. In the recent engagement Kendall succeeded in depriving the Indians of 400 ponies, and these Colorow has demanded. He succeeded in running some of them off, but Kendall refused to surrender the others unless the Indians for whom he has warrants are delivered to him. This, of course, Colorow refused to do. The situation does not improve. Gen. Crook find that he will be compelled to use troops against both parties to enforce peace. He confessed when the disturbance began that he knew little of the Utes, and the fact that he has gone alone to settle the affair Indicates that he has no conception of the magnitude of the task.

Schooner Sank.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The tug Imperator collided with the schooner H. N. Haven's this morning. The schooner was cut in two and sank immediately, and one of hes crew was drowned. The tug was standing over from Bayonne to Red Hook, and the schooner was beating her way up the bay. Just as the tng was about to pass the liaven's, Capt. Nelson, who was at the wheel of the former. eaned over to close a window in the pilot house. ARCHBISHOP CORRICAN DEFIED.

Members of a German Protestant Church Robel Against His Latest Order.

RONDOUT, N. Y., Aug. 31.—Archbishop Corrigan is determined that German Catholies shall neither dance nor drink beer at picnics held under the auspices of the church after 6 o'clock in the evening. The members of the Sick and Ald society of St. Peter's German Protestant church arranged to hold a festival here last evening. Sunday the assistant priest of St. Peter's, Father Liebhausen, read from the altar a letter from the archhishop stating that if the picnic was held no beer must be sold and that there should be no dancing permitted. Despite the warning the picuic was held, beer was drank and dancing went on. The Germans say they have always drank beer and danced when they felt like it, and yet have been faithful to the church.

It was in St. Peter's church that there was a war for n year or so between congragation and chief priest (Rev. Father Sieglack), which ended in the priest's removal. The defiance of the archbishop's order causes comment in church oircles, following, as it does, close upon the heels of the uon-compliance of the members of the Gentlemen's Catholic Temperance society of Kingston, who went on an excursion last week after being forbidden to do so by the Very Rev. James Dougherty, dean of this diocese. A leading member of the church said the "Germans had decided that they would not be pulled around by the nose by the archbishops or anyhorly else in social matters,"

CATHOLIC CONVENTION.

A VERY IMPORTANT MEETING TO BE HELD IN CHICAGO.

The First General Assembly of the Azierican German Catholic Association-Soeleties Embraced in the Meeting-Expected Attendance of Ten Thousand. CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—During the first part of the coming month there will be held in this city a convention, the importance of which cannot be overestimated. On the evening of the 6th inst., in the large hall of Battery D, the first general assembly of the American German Catholio association will be called. This is the first of its kind in America.

The assemblage will embrace the society of the American German priests, with a membership of over five hundred; representatives from each German benevolent society in the country, and the American Ger-man Catholio Press association, also, Ger-man representative men of the faith from all parts of the country, independent of any connection with the above organizations. Such a gathering of notable men is bound to attract the most intense interest from everybody famillar with current affairs. The convention will be held from day to day and until its work and deliberations have been ended, which are not likely to last over a few days. The daily attendance at such a convention will only be limited by the capacity of the hall,

In conversation with a Catholio gentleman of prominence it was learned that the attendance will probably be in the vicinity of ten thousand persons. To preside over this vast assemblage is a most distinguished honor. This honor has been conferred upon Rev. Father William Tappert, pastor of the church of the Mother of God, of Covington, Ky. The Rev. Father was ohosen at the last meeting of the central society at Toledo. Bishop Johannes Vertin, of Marquette. Mich., and Bishop Winand Wigger, of New-ark, N. J., will be honorary presidents of the association.

The fact that the convention has been called, will be conducted and everything pertaining to the result of the deliberations will be in the name of the American German branch of the church, has caused a very extensive oplnion that the convention was a decided slap at the Irish branch of the church. To ascertain the feeling of the local Catholio clergy in the matter, a call was made on several of the leading members of the priesthood within the past few days.

While the the gentlemen were adverse to their names appearing in print they unanimously and without any hesitation said there were absolutely no grounds for such rumors. This was confirmed by priests of jury for the Chatsworth horror, has been reboth Irish and the German speaking congregations. It is the information of the gentlemen that the deliberations will be iu German as a matter of convenience to the Ger- Louisville 14, Mets 8; Cieveland 8, Baltiman speaking citizens who will attend. Of course the doors will be thrown wide open and exhaustive reports of the proceedings will be given to the country through the open and free. Second-To acknowledge our love to the holy church and to the apostolic chair.

The aim of the congress is enumerated in the case as follows. First-To acknowledge our Catholic faith

Third-As American German Catholics to acknowledge obedience to our su-

Fourth-To strengthen our brotherly support.

The American-German Press society will convene the day following the Catholio association. Its aim is to work together in weather, winds generally from east to the real Catholic spirit; to further friendly south, feelings between the publishers and editors of the American-German Cathollo press, and to further the material prosperity of the Quotations of the Money, Stock. Produce Catholio press.
